MOVING PICTURES MADE HER SEASICK

Motion Same as on Ship Board.
Used Vitalitas for Quick Relief.

"Oh, I am so sick," said a lady as she entered a drug store and clutched a show case as though to keep from falling. A drug clerk hastened to her assistance and asked if she knew what the trouble was.

"It is seasickness. I got it in a moving picture show a few minutes ago. It was a boat scene on a very rough sea. It made me feel just like I was in the boat. It rolled and tumbled. I have been on the ocean lots of times and seasick lots of times. Please give me a bottle of Vitalitas. Open it and give me a teaspoonful in a half a glass of water right quick."

Later the lady said she believed Vitalitas was good for everything, but she did not know until her last trip down from New York that it would relieve seasickness.

Vitalitas is Nature's most wonderful curative force. It is powerful enough to drive out many of the most stubborn diseases, yet is so mild a child or delicate invalid may take it. Diseases of the following type are swept permanently away by Vitalitas: Indigestion, rheumatism, biliousness, catarrh, nervousness, impotency, debility, eczema; in fact, all derangements of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. See the unique display and sample Vitalitas today at the Powers-Kelly Drug Co.

FIGHT CENTER IS SALE OF SUPPORT

SULZER IS ALLEGED TO HAVE BARTERED HIS POLITICAL INFLUENCE.

COLWELL IS NOT YET FOUND

Two More Witnesses Will Tell of Governor's Wall Street Deals.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The fire of counsel for the board of managers in the Sulzer impeachment trial will center this week on the governor's alleged bartering of political influence. This was announced by Attorney Isador J. Kresel.

Not only will members of the legislature, who are alleged to have made deals with the governor, be called but others who are said to have been threatened by him if they did not vote for certain administration measures, as well as a few democratic politicians.

Among those who will take the stand are Assemblyman P. G. Prime Jr. of Essex, Lewis C. Greiner of Greene and Thaddeus C. Sweet of Oswego. The first two named, the governor is said to have made trades giving his support to highway bills in return for their support of his direct primary legislation.

Another witness from whom the managers expect to obtain testimony bearing on the alleged bartering of gubernatorial patronage is Commissioner J. H. Delaney of the state department of efficiency and economy. The managers assert they will be able to show that Governor Sulzer refused more than a hundred special bills to this department and the four measures dealing with the bridges and highway improvements in Greene, Essex and Warren counties are the only ones in which he took issue with the department's recommendations.

Commissioner Delaney recommended that these bills be vetoed. The governor signed them.

To Tell of Wall Street Deals.
At least two more witnesses, Melville E. Fuller and J. B. Gray, both of New York, will be called to testify further regarding the governor's Wall Street deals before the legislators are put on the stand. Kresel said today that he thought the examination of these witnesses will be concluded in the afternoon session tomorrow. Further inquiry into the alleged stock deals, however, probably will be made later.

The star witness on the stock deals, Frederick L. Colwell, will be welcomed as a witness whenever he appears. But his whereabouts were as much a mystery today as at any time since he disappeared several weeks ago.

A mysterious woman for whom detectives in the employ of the board of managers are searching, who is wanted to testify regarding the governor's Wall Street deals, is believed to know where Colwell is. She has been in communication with him ever since he disappeared, it is said.

Fifty subpoenas were filed out today under the personal direction of Governor Sulzer and process servers will begin calling witnesses in his behalf tomorrow. The committee investigating the case this afternoon and again denied that he was a nervous wreck from loss of sleep.

FUNNY MEN NABBED

PRIVATE CAR OF DUSKY TROUPE IS RAIDED AFTER MIDNIGHT.

Four Negro Comedians Arrested by Patrolman Carlisle on Charge of Gambling.

When Pete Worthey, the white proprietor of the company of negro comedians, singers and dancers that opened a week's engagement in Waco last night, learns what befell his stellar galaxy of funny men shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, he will probably get warm under the collar and fire a telegraphic query at the troupe in charge of the show, demanding to know whether he is paying those comedians to ask one another "Why does a chicken cross the road?" or to sit up all night turning his private car into a gambling den on wheels.

Private Car Is Raided.

The car in which the troupe of dusky troubadours is traveling was standing on the Katy tracks, between Seventh and Eighth streets, last night when it was raided by Policeman Joe Carlisle. Carlisle's suspicions that all was not running according to Hoyle in the car were excited when he saw shafts of light issuing from the closely curtained windows and heard loud voices emanating from within. He boarded the Afro-American special in a huff, and entering the car, found four of the dusky singers and dancers so deeply absorbed in a game of poker that they did not observe the officer until he was reaching over the shoulder of one of the costliest quartette and sweeping in the piles of paper and silver money that lay on the board.

He Was "Scared Petrified."

One of the negroes was in the act of playing a card, his hand raised to a level with the top of his kinky pate when he got a glimpse of the officer's uniform and badge.

"Stuffer!" Jack Johnson, he exclaimed, and held the card suspended above the board.

"Well, why don't you play it?" the policeman asked with a laugh, as he continued to gather in all the money and cards in sight.

"Lord, boss, you done scared me petrified," the negro comedian responded as he dropped the card on the board.

Carlisle took the four men to the station and locked them up, entering a charge of gambling against each of the quartette. They gave their names as Joe Mullins, L. Carter, L. L. Fisher and Frank Warty.

Cotton Manufacturers to Meet at Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 28.—Interesting papers on various phases of the cotton industry will be read by experts from all parts of the world at the semi-annual meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, which will open here next Tuesday and continue in session until October 2.

The opening feature of the meeting will be a golf tournament at which the members of the association will compete for prizes offered for the lowest net and gross scores. The opening session of the meeting will be devoted to addresses of welcome, and the reading of the address of the president, Edwin Farnham Greene of Boston. Other papers on the program for different sessions of the meeting are "The Cotton Spinning Industry in Russia," by Vladimir P. Gnesin, Tashkent, Russia; "The Permanent Fireproofing of Cotton Yarn and Cloth," of which Arthur T. Bradlee, Boston, is chairman, also will make a report at this session.

The New Tariff and Foreign Competition. will be discussed Thursday by William Whitman of New York; Clinton H. Seavall, Boston, will speak on "Methods of Cost Keeping and Clear Accounting," and W. P. Parish of New York will have as his subject "Developments in Lintage, With Special Reference to the Use of Southern Grades."

INJURED BY FREIGHT TRAIN.

Ed Kelly Run Over on Santa Fe Tracks at Temple.

Temple, Sept. 28.—Ed Kelly, an employee of a manufacturing plant at Cleburne, was run over by a Santa Fe freight train near the passenger station last night, with the result that he suffered a badly mangled left foot that was afterward partially amputated at the railway hospital, where he is receiving treatment. He will recover.

Campaign Will Open.

New York, Sept. 28.—The municipal campaign which the death of Mayor Gaynor caused to be deferred two weeks and which removed from the contest for mayor one of the chief figures, will be opened tomorrow, according to the plans announced tonight by both democratic and fusion managers. Edward E. McCall, candidate of Tammany Hall, will begin his campaign activities by meeting the members of an uptown democratic organization bearing his name. More pretentious propositions are announced by the fusionists who will formally notify John Purroy Mitchell of his nomination for mayor at a meeting in Cooper Union.

To Reclaim Land.

Bonham, Sept. 28.—The board of trade of this city has secured a promise from State Surveyor Skiles to begin a survey of Bois D'Arc creek in Fannin county about October 1. An effort will be made to reclaim approximately 40,000 acres of very valuable farming lands in this section and preparations are being made to get matters in shape. This county is one of the banner farming counties of the state and these rich acres add with her present resources will add considerable wealth to this county.

A QUESTION OF SINCERITY.

When Huerta sent the Mexican congress that message that touched so softly on the American-Mexican "diplomatic strain" we were prone to believe, and said, that Huerta after all was taking advantage of the common-sense lesson brought him by Mr. Lind in presenting our president's views of how peace might be returned to the land. We thought there were indications that Huerta was learning his lesson—the lesson of bowing to the inevitable, gracefully or otherwise. Mr. Wilson suggested to Huerta that a lawful, peaceful election must be held and such an election would be impossible if Huerta's hands and the hands of his special allies in the government were not kept off. Such non-interference must go the length of non-partisanship by the Huerta crowd as to candidates for the presidency who would go before the polls. It is remembered that Gamboa, now the Catholic party's candidate for the presidency and then minister of foreign affairs wrote a most caustic reply to the proposals carried by Lind—a reply that partook of insolence.

With the October elections in sight, in Mexico, we find Huerta doing pretty much what President Wilson urged him and wants him to do. He declares he will not interfere either in the campaign or the election, or give open backing to a candidate for the place he usurped. He promises military and police protection for the candidate Gamboa and any other who offers, and for the polls, as far as is possible. Huerta seems to be withdrawing from the situation leading up to a new regime for Mexico. Nevertheless, there has been no indication that the hostile forces, both constitutional and lawless, are withdrawing from the field even to the extent of resting on their arms until they see exactly what sort of election Huerta permits. It may be that Gamboa's association with the Huerta government forbids the confidence of Huerta's enemies in the sincerity of Huerta's "guarantees." There is no doubt Huerta realizes the futility of attempting to continue himself and his people in power; to this extent he really has learned his lesson. There remains only the test of coming events in Mexican politics and the conduct of the October polls before it can be finally decided whether the lesson will stick.

Are You Answered?

But who in Texas wants to eat the leathery and flavorless Galveston oysters when the luscious bivalves of Louisiana are so easily obtainable?—New Orleans States.

Anyone in Texas who has sampled those same Louisiana bivalves—and can have Galveston oysters brought to him, a "leathery and flavorless" Galveston is redeemed by its oysters and its surf. New Orleans is high in the cuisine column but her cuisine in no wise depends for its fame on local raw material. Railroads have made her eating places blessed and ships bring delicacies into port.

MR. MAYES ANNOUNCES.

Mr. Mayes, lieutenant governor and acting governor at present, said a few days ago that he declined the offer of the chair of journalism in the State University because he considered he owed it to the people to serve out his term. The university's offer was flattering and the place, we understand, remunerative. That Mr. Mayes immediately thereafter announced his candidacy for the executive office in no wise raises question of the sincerity of his statement concerning the offer of the professorship. He is a truthful man and modest; a man may be modest, we take it, even if he asks election to the office of governor. Besides, Mr. Mayes' announcement was expected. He has never denied the many reports that he would be a candidate and Brownwood Bulletin, his newspaper, has reprinted such reports and comment thereon.

The lieutenant governor's announcement is simple and dignified. He promises detailed statement later on the more important State situations and administrative "issues." Of course he promises a business administration and efforts to get the State together for the development of its resources, business, education and institutions as well as for remedies needed in each. He writes he is a State-wide prohibitionist and local optionist but does not look to bring the State to his way of thinking on the prohibition issue. As to the contrast of "State-wide" and "local" as used by Mr. Mayes, it is needful to remark only that we assume he means if he cannot get prohibition he is content if local option and regulation are honestly enforced—in which case he thinks as the mass of reasonable beings in Texas think. This looks as if Mr. Mayes does not intend to campaign on a promise to endeavor to force again the issue of State-wide prohibition; this looks not merely as if he is deferring to expediency for that a prohibition-pledged candidate is the last candidate Texas wants at this juncture, but that he considers an administration of development is incomparably more necessary than an administration of this factional, pseudo-political disturbance.

Whether or not a stronger, more able man shall offer for the governorship, Mr. Mayes will have a large following through the State. The fact that prior to his candidacy for lieutenant governor he was little known in politics and not generally known as a newspaper publisher outside the guild will, in the present attitude of the State toward longtime politicians who are still in the scramble for office be accounted a fact somewhat in his favor. Personally, Mr. Mayes is known as an honest, thoughtful Texan; it is understood he is familiar with the State's condition governmentally and with its great need of non-political development along all lines of government, commerce and industry. Perhaps more than any who has announced for governor, Mr. Mayes may appeal to the conservative vote. But it cannot sensibly be concluded that all contestants are in the field.

Both, if Possible.

The Waco News suggests that the newboys of New York buy a bronze tablet in memory of "Big Tim" Sullivan by subscribing to a fund to carry on some of the dead man's charities to the needy—Laredo Times.

It is comforting to think among the four million there is still a man and a woman here and there with big heart and big purse who will devote both to the late "Big Tim's" sort of charity—the noblest sort. The newboys need not "subscribe to a fund" for his own; his heart, too, is big. A memorial to Sullivan is the man's due and might be an inspiration to more of the Sullivan brand of kindness and humaneness.

TO KEEP THE DEMOCRACY IN POWER.

That recent election in Maine which "went" Republican to the surprise of some and the chagrin of not a few who had figured a less decided Republican result, has reopened discussion as to developments in imminent elections to congress. An informing and, it is hoped for the democracy's sake, an accurate analysis may be had from most of the newspapers in Washington. The Post, for example, still considers the Progressive party "an adjunct to democracy," and declares that "if the Democrats can find a way to encourage the Progressive party in its announced plan to put a candidate for congress in each of the 435 congressional districts, they may maintain their control of the house at the next election even though public resentment over the tariff bill has become acute."

This writer reminds that it was the split in the Republican party that gave the Democrats their commanding lead at the last congressional elections, and if the two wings of the G. O. P. can be kept apart Democratic control may be continued. A study of the votes at the last congressional elections shows that the combined strength of the Progressive and Republican candidates in most of the districts was greater than the Democratic vote. The Republican split, however, enabled the Democrats to elect their candidates in many districts. Now the Progressive members of congress say that they are going to organize their forces and put candidates in every district next year. If they were constituting themselves an adjunct to the Democratic party, they could serve President Wilson and his followers no better.

"The Republicans, however," judges the Post, "will look back upon the recent congressional election in Maine for their consolation. Here the Progressives had a candidate, but the votes which he attracted from the Republican ranks were not sufficient to reduce the Republican vote to the point giving the Democratic candidate a plurality. The district in question, however, was normally Republican by a very large majority. Where the normal vote in districts is more evenly balanced between the Republican and Democratic parties, the result, with a Progressive in the field, would be different. There can be no doubt that the Progressive movement has lost impetus recently. The question is whether the new party will show such a loss of strength a year from now that the Republicans will be enabled to defeat two opponents. The Progressives themselves can hardly hope to win, in view of the registration figures which have recently come from the different states. What will remain in doubt until the next election is whether the Progressives can award another victory to the Democrats."

Horror!

I have entire faith in the open-mindedness of Americans.—Mrs. Emmaline Pankhurst.

May Mercy grant the Pankhurst's idea of "open mindedness" has no connection with Pankhurstian performances in the Motherland! Americans are O, so open minded but their minds are not open at both ends. Their minds have bottom. And to no American with a basis in mentality are acid and mail boxes, bricks and plate glass, bombs and hisoric structures, shrieks and sessions of government bodies, torches and pivate houses combinations with a place in his national scheme of things. Let us hope the Pankhurst's faith is a well-behaved faith that may not be misplaced so far west of Greenwich.

The address of Probation Officer Ingram to the local federation of missionary societies, concerning his new duties and his plan of pursuing them evidences much thought of the problem of correcting delinquent youth. No method of caring for and training the wayward has succeeded comparably with the "big brother" method—interested and kindly guardianship of the young who either have never been accorded right guidance in their upbringing or have broken away from such teaching through evil influences that were brought to bear through no choice of their own. The task of remedying neglect is even greater than the task of restraining and reforming delinquency. Many a boy is in State reformatory because he had to sleep under a building or in a shop doorway and had none to teach him to curb his desires and resist his appetites for others' property. The new county officer appears to be going about his work with worthy, practical ideas and an attainable ideal. It is right that he concludes he is to oversee correction, not accomplish incarceration.

That "mysterious woman" in the Sulzer trial dispatches makes the second woman who has happened to William since Mr. Murphy made up his mind that the Statehouse was not big enough to contain his enemies. As a maker of mysteries and worker of revenges someone connected with this trial has Prof. Moriarty of "Sherlock Holmes" fame penned in his cellar.

"Yes," we reply to our interview of ourselves. "Yes, it is possible that Mr. Mayes prefers to induce the old idea how to vote above teaching the young idea how to write." He will now conduct a large class in politics and the university's school of journalism will know him not.

Officers with our troopers near El Paso say our troopers did not return fire of the Mexican federal cavalrymen. An American citizen near the scene says the fire was returned. We find it in our heart to hope that citizen told the truth.

If Sr. Gamboa takes our advice he will exercise great care in making his itinerary for presidential campaign stumping. Carranza's men would not hesitate to cause him the embarrassment during a speech incident to being shot between the peroration and the water pitcher.

The Mexican war department wants Gen. Porfirio Diaz. The Mexican war department has needed Gen. Diaz since Gen. Diaz received hint that Mexico would survive without him and suited action to the word.

A Fort Worth woman last summer quarreled with her husband and killed him. She was convicted Friday; sentenced, two years. The jury recommended suspension of sentence. Paragraphs on this determination of the case will appear in New York editorial columns this morning.

Col. Roosevelt speech makes against Tammany's control of New York State. After many days the colonel finds himself in accord with popular sentiment on a political matter.

Rep. Louis J. Wortham is altogether too lenient. The "veto pencil" did not run riot—it ran amuck.

Texas Viewpoints.

That Careless Name.
Charlie Abbott or Ned Hardy or whomever be the corporation minion in Dallas who is sending Viewpoints monthly copies of The Southwestern Telephone News addressed to "McGillicuddy" cure of this sheet—only that and nothing more, is emphatically directed to desert, forebear and to spread Viewpoint's rightful and rightfully distinguished name on the wrapper. "McGillicuddy" deserved to stick as a George Waverly Briggs contraption, devised to break the monotony of Austin days in years ago, only as long as it found favor with State Press, W. Martin Thornton, L. Peruchino Leuchridge, T. Jr. Flinty, C. Adonis DuBoise, H. Miltiades Johnston, H. Botticelli Blackman, H. Nugent Fitzgerald, J. Hays Quarles and J. Hampton Sullivan. Since Viewpoints and Briggs have attained each to honors and dignities—the former to benedict blessedness and to the membership of the Galveston News—and State Press is giving Viewpoints his legit. cognomen, certainly mere publicity producers for a mere telephone corporation can afford to take this extra trouble and give the "Viewpoints" his due.

Pity 'T Is.

"Take the gubernatorial candidate list," Bryan Eagle takes the gubernatorial candidate list—"the announced, the semi-announced, the candidates, the spoken of and the heard of, the friends-boomed and the self-boomed, and the conclusion is irresistibly forced upon you that just almost anybody can run for governor." Eagle's scream can't be helped and it has the right to scream. "Just almost anybody" can run for governor—"just almost anybody" will run for governor, "just almost anybody is running for governor." Who will buy their leftover peanuts?

The Silt Issue.

Childress Post wants to know why women do "silt their skirts sometimes and again wear them so transparent as to admit the rays of sunlight. Surely they do not do these things for the vulgar purpose of attracting man's unwelcome stare." O, surely not! Say not so! The Post is that liberal it always wants to hear both sides of the argument. It has more time than we, so for the silt side we refer it to Judge Ralph S. Latschaw of the K. C. Mo., criminal court and for the shut side we refer it to the Rev. Dr. Len G. Broughton, of Christ Church, Westminster, London. These be long ways to travel for information but the silt and the diaphanous are issues—and the Post must be well informed.

Look What's Here!

Lately the McKinney Courier-Gazette opined that our argument for free text books in the "free" schools of Texas set forth more than a reasonable expectation and hope. To quote from it a more recent paragraph: "The next thing that should be probed and investigated by the Texas legislature is the text book question and its attendant 'supplementary' list. If something is not done, it will be but a matter of a few years when a poor man's child will be unable to secure an education in our alleged free schools." "Our alleged 'free schools'" was the basis of our argument on this very head. Wherein would Messrs. Perkins and Garrison distinguish their point from the argument we offered?

Waco and The News.

Mr. LeRue's East Texasans.

The Review publishes an extract from the Waco Morning News that is highly complimentary to an Athens young man who has shown much ability in writing. The article is headed "The Awakening of East Texas." The beauty of it, too, is that all he says about East Texas is true, and even more so in Henderson county.—Athens Review.

A Good Precedent.

A Waco court has set a good precedent. A man convicted of a minor felony case was given benefit of the suspended sentence act, and instead of lying in jail for a long time, he was released so that he and his wife could go to the cotton patch and pick cotton at $1 a hundred. She declared her ability to pick 250 pounds a day and he asserted that he could beat that. The man is probably cured of his tendency to get easy money and the wife is not turned out to make her living the best way she can. A good, honest work program, with decent pay for same, is the best cure of all for people who are in the incipency of a criminal career.—Temple Telegram.

Hearken! "Peerless Bob."

Peerless Bob Henry of Texas, has been named by President Wilson to deliver the oration on behalf of the federal government at the dedication of the Balboa monument at San Diego, Calif. Balboa is credited with having discovered the Pacific ocean. Congressman Henry was in the limelight for a considerable period on account of having discovered serious defects in the currency bill. It is gratifying to know that the discoverer of much er of great defects in the national currency bill. And the selection shows, also, that whatever chasm existed between the president and the Texas congressman has been bridged.—Denison Herald.

The Proposed City Charter

The sub-committee of citizens engaged in the preparation of a new charter for the city of Waco has completed the draft of the document, which is to be submitted to the people later for their adoption or rejection. It is a lengthy document. Believing the people are interested in the charter, the Morning News will publish it in daily installments. These installments can be preserved and when the publication is complete the clippings will make a complete charter.

SECTION XIII.

Mayor Pro Tem.

Art. 59. It shall be the duty of the board of commissioners to elect one of said commissioners mayor pro tem. He shall hold his office one year and in case of the failure, inability or refusal of the mayor to act, the mayor pro tem shall perform the duties and receive the compensation of the mayor.

SECTION XIV.

Official Oath.

Art. 60. All officers of the city of Waco shall before entering upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the official oath prescribed in the constitution of the state.

SECTION XV.

Powers and Duties of the Mayor.

Art. 61. The mayor of the city shall be the chief executive officer of said corporation, and shall be vigilant and active at all times in causing the laws and ordinances of the government of said city to be duly executed and put in force.

Art. 62. He shall inspect the conduct of all subordinate officers in the government thereof, and, as far as it may be in his power, shall cause all negligence, carelessness and violation of duty to be prosecuted and punished.

Art. 63. He shall have the power, whenever in his judgment the good of the city may require it, to call meetings of the board of commissioners, and he shall, from time to time, communicate to that body all such information and recommendations as such measures as may tend to the improvement of finances, the police, health, security, cleanliness, comfort, ornament and good government of said city.

Art. 64. Whenever the mayor shall deem it necessary in order to enforce the laws of the city or to avert danger or to protect life or property, in case of riot, or any outbreak or calamity, or public disturbance, or when he has reason to fear any serious violation of law or order or any outbreak, or any other danger to said city or the inhabitants thereof, he shall summon into service as a special police force all or as many of the citizens as in his judgment and discretion may be necessary and proper; and such summons may be by proclamation or order addressed to the citizens generally, or to any ward of the city, or subdivision thereof, or such summons may be by personal notification.

Art. 65. Such special police while in service shall be subject to the orders of the mayor, shall perform such duties as he may require, and shall have the same power, authority and duty as the regular police of said city.

Art. 66. Any person so summoned and failing to obey or appearing and failing to perform any duty that may be required under this act, or any ordinance of said city in conformity thereto, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Art. 67. He shall have authority in case of riot or any other unlawful assemblage, to order and enforce the closing of any theatre, picture show, or other place of public amusement or entertainment, hall, room, bar room or other place of resort, or public room or building, and may order the arrest of any person violating in his presence, any of the penal laws of the state, or any ordinance of the city; and he shall perform such other duties as may be required by the board of commissioners, and he shall have authority as may be prescribed by the board of commissioners.

Art. 68. All ordinances and resolutions adopted by the board of commissioners shall, before they take effect, be placed in the office of the city secretary; and if the mayor approves thereof, he shall sign the same and such as he shall not sign he shall return to the board of commissioners with his objection thereto.

Art. 69. Upon the return of any ordinance or resolution of the mayor, the vote by which the same was passed shall be reconsidered, and if after such reconsideration, three-fourths of the whole number of commissioners agree to pass the same and enter their vote on the journal of their proceedings, the same shall be adopted and become effective.

Art. 70. And if the mayor shall neglect to approve, or object to any such proceedings for a longer period than ten days after the same shall be placed in the city secretary's office as aforesaid, the board of commissioners shall be empowered to take effect.

Art. 71. He shall also have full power and authority to administer official oaths and all other oaths or affirmations in trials and all investigations being made or conducted by or before him or by the board of commissioners, and in all such proceedings may compel witnesses to testify and punish all contempt by fine and imprisonment or either in the same manner and to the same extent as county judges or county courts are now or may hereafter be empowered by law, and all such fines shall be enforced in the same manner as fines in the city corporation court, and when collected shall be paid into the city treasury as other fines.

SECTION XVI.

Corporation Court.

Art. 72. Judicial powers of the city of Waco shall be vested in a court to be known as the "Corporation Court in Waco, Texas." To be presided over by the Recorder, which court shall be deemed always open for the trial of causes and shall have such jurisdiction and power as now or may be hereafter established by law in this state.

Art. 73. The Recorder shall be elected in the manner as other city officers are elected, and shall hold office for two years and until his successor is elected and qualified, unless sooner removed by death, resignation, or under the provisions of law; provided, that the present Recorder or Judge of said Corporation Court, whose term does not expire until in April, 1914, may serve out his unexpired term; and such Recorder shall receive such compensation as may be provided by the board of commissioners. He shall be a qualified practicing attorney who, at the time of his election, has lived in the city of Waco at least four years and has been engaged in the practice of law at least two years.

Art. 74. The board of commissioners shall provide for a special judge of the corporation court, to preside therein in case of absence, disability, or disqualification of the regular recorder, and to provide for the compensation of such judge.

Art. 75. The board of commissioners shall determine what costs, if any, shall be charged for proceedings in and for all processes issued by said court.

Art. 76. In no case shall the city of Waco pay, or be responsible for any costs in prosecutions in the corporation court.

Art. 77. The style of all writs issued out of the corporation court in Waco, Texas, shall be "In the name of the city of Waco."

Art. 78. All jurors shall be residents of said city and otherwise possess the same qualifications as jurors in the state courts, and they shall be summoned in the same manner as provided for in justice courts.

Art. 79. Appeals shall be from this court to the county court, when the trials shall be de novo, and said appeals shall be governed by the rules of practice and procedure for appeals from justice courts to the county courts, so far as the same may be practicable, and in all such appeals the city attorney shall prosecute such cases in the county court.

SECTION XVII.

Duties and Powers of the Chief of Police.

Art. 80. The chief of police shall either in person or by deputy attend upon the corporation court while said court is in session, and shall promptly and faithfully execute all writs and processes issued by said court.

Art. 81. He shall have like power with the sheriff of the county to execute the writ of search warrant.

Art. 82. He shall be active in quelling riots, disturbances and disorders of the peace within the limits of the city, and shall take into custody all persons so offending against the peace of the city, and shall have authority to take suitable and sufficient bail for the appearance before the corporation court of any person charged with an offense against the ordinances or laws of the city.

Art. 83. It shall be his duty to arrest all violators of the public peace, and all who obstruct or interfere with him in the execution of his duties in his office, or who shall be guilty of any disorderly conduct or disturbance whatever; and in the prevention and suppression of crime and arrest of offenders, he shall have, possess and exercise like power, authority and jurisdiction as the sheriff of a county under the laws of the state.

Art. 84. He shall receive a salary to be fixed by the board of commissioners.

Art. 85. He shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the board of commissioners may require and he shall perform such other duties, and possess such other powers, rights and authority, as said board may, by ordinance, require and confer, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

Art. 86. He shall collect all fines, forfeitures, and penalties imposed for the violation of any regulation, order or ordinance of the city and pay the same to the city treasurer daily as collected.

SECTION XVIII.

Duties of the Secretary.

Art. 87. It shall be the duty of the city secretary to attend every meeting of the board of commissioners and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book to be provided for that purpose, and to engross and enroll all laws, resolutions and ordinances of the board of commissioners, to keep its corporate seal, to take charge of and preserve and keep in order all the books, records, papers, documents, files of said board, and all commissions issued by the city assessor and collector, and to keep a record register thereof, and to make out all the notices required under any regulation or ordinance of the city.

Art. 88. He shall draw all warrants on the treasurer and countersign the same, and keep an accurate account thereof in a book provided for the purpose.

Art. 89. He shall be the general accountant of the corporation, and shall keep in books regular accounts of the receipts and disbursements for the city, and separately under proper heads, such account of receipt and disbursement, and also account with each person, including officers, who have money transactions with the city, crediting the amounts allowed by proper authority, and specifying the particular transaction to which entries apply.

Art. 90. He shall also keep a register of bonds and bills issued by the city, and all evidence of debts due and payable to it, noting the particulars thereof and all facts connected therewith as they may occur.

Art. 91. He shall keep all contracts made by the board of commissioners, and he shall do and perform all such other duties as may be required of him by law, ordinance, resolution or order of said board.

Art. 92. He shall not collect or receive any money due the city, and shall receive for his services an annual salary, payable at stated periods, as may be allowed by said board.

Art. 93. He shall attend all meetings of the public safety commission and keep accurate minutes of the proceedings thereof in a book provided for that purpose.

Art. 94. He shall also be ex-officio clerk of the corporation court; and as such, shall have the power to administer oaths, take affidavits, issue warrants, subpoenas and other process, and perform such other duties in said office as may be required of him by ordinance.

MAJORS CLOSING THEIR SEASON

ONE WEEK MORE OF LEAGUE
BASEBALL, THEN THE WORLD'S SERIES.

BOTH PENNANTS ARE CINCHED

Giants Look Strong, but Philadelphia
Has an Unknown Quantity in Recruit Pitchers.

New York, Sept. 28.—A week more of major league play, a week or ten days following to settle the world's championship and the baseball season of 1913 will have passed into history.

The past week saw the pennant contests in both National and American leagues settled beyond dispute, and arrangements for the big series between the New York Nationals and the Philadelphia Americans for the title duly promulgated by the national commission.

According to it, the "great crucial series of the season" will open on the Polo grounds on October 7 and will be fought out there and at Shibe park, Philadelphia, until the winning of four games gives either the Giants or the Athletics the right to inscribe the legend "World's Champions 1913" on the club's banner.

The Giants were a good bit slower in clinching the flag honors in their league than were the Athletics in theirs. For this the persistence of the Philadelphia on the one hand and the cave-in of Philadelphia on the other were largely responsible.

The Mackmen's final and finishing blow was struck last Monday when Philadelphia, when the Detroit Tigers were blanked in both games of a double-header. The Phillies hung onto the Giants' coat tails the week through and only succumbed to the inevitable on Saturday, when the Boston won their third game of a seven-game series and thereby made it mathematically impossible for Boston's men to win, not even should McGraw's nine lose all its remaining games.

This is the Giants' third consecutive pennant and the seventh in the club's history. The Athletics' triumph gave them their fifth championship flag.

Series Will Be Interesting.
The coming struggle between these two teams bids fair to be one of the most interesting yet in the series of contests for world's laurels. Personnel of the two teams is not greatly changed from that of two years ago, when the Athletics got the better of the series by four games to two. Experts generally figure a decisive in defensive strength by the Mackmen chiefly through the loss of Jack Coombs and a corresponding gain by the Giants through the addition of Tesreau and Demaree, while Mathewson and Marquard still remain to counter Bender and Plank. This leaves out of the reckoning, however, the large group of Philadelphia "colt" pitchers, any one of whom may unexpectedly come through with a brilliant performance.

It is interesting to note that while the Athletics recently have worked out of the batting slump which affected their pennant chances at one time, and are now belaboring the ball in old-time style, the Giants have not shown a corresponding return to the hitting form that produces runs when they are needed. Last week, for instance, McGraw's men averaged only three and a half runs to the game, while the Mackmen amassed an average of nearly seven.

Mack Saves His Pitchers.
Conservation of pitching talent already has begun by the Athletics' canny leader. He gave his veterans a good rest last week, Bender not showing once on the mound and Plank only for a few innings in one game. McGraw had to send out his string to clinch the pennant, and Mathewson, Marquard and Tesreau came through with sterling performances. Demaree was less successful. All of the quartette doubtless will be given just enough work during the coming seven days to keep in condition for the big job ahead of them.

With this week of the season remaining several contests for positions in each major league remain to be settled. Chicago in the National still has a chance to overhaul Philadelphia, but the outlook for the Cubs finishing above third is not as bright as it was a week ago. The Pirates are settled in fourth place. Cincinnati, however, still has a fighting chance to rise.

In the American league Washington, after being beaten in a series by the St. Louis Browns, took vengeance on Frank Chance's New Yorks, winning three straight and thereby getting a hold on second place, as the Cleveland continued their slide and lost three games out of four. Boston and Chicago stood practically stationary, probably raising place contest still in an open one, with the chances favoring the Red Sox.

Jackson-Cobb Batting Duel.
The batting duel between Ty Cobb and Joe Jackson was watched with interest during the week. Tyrus officially went to bat twenty times during the week and hit safely in twelve instances for an average of .600. Of his twelve hits two were triples and one a double. The fleet Detroit also scored three runs and stole four bases.

Jackson, on the other hand, had a poor week of it, hitting safely only four times in fourteen times up. However, he scored five runs in the four games he played and stole two bases. Only one of his hits was for extra bases, a three-bagger.

Cobb's great week puts him far out in advance and there is little doubt that the batting laurels of the season will go to him.

Speaker has been out of the Boston lineup lately and his average is likely to suffer. In the National there is a pretty fight between Daubert and Cravath for leadership among the regulars. Daubert having a slight advantage when the latest unofficial averages were compiled.

The veteran Honus Wagner bids fair to complete his seventeenth consecutive season as a .300 hitter or better.

University Has Scrimmage.
Austin, Sept. 28.—The first scrimmage that the University of Texas football team has undergone during this year's training was held on Saturday when two teams selected from the first squad were lined up against each other.

The work was very pleasing to the followers of the Longhorns who were present and it is expected that the team will be in first-class condition for the game on Friday with Fort Worth Polytechnic.

Line coach, Lieutenant Joseph Wier, the former West Point captain, will report today, and will take charge of the scrubs and will work in the development of the Texas line.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—The American league season in Chicago was brought to a close today with a shutout victory, 1 to 0, for the local club over Cleveland. Lajoie fumbled Weaver's grounder in the sixth after making a wild throw to first, allowing Weaver to reach second. Lord grounded out and Weaver took third and scored on Collins' out. The visitors got but one man to third base and it was by a lightning play by Cicotte that he was caught attempting to score.

WACO GOLFER TO MEET ENGLISHMEN

GEORGE V. ROTAN WILL PLAY AT DALLAS WITH VARDON
AND RAY.

MOST NOTED BRITISH PLAYERS

Two Texas Players Will Compete on October 17 With Professionals of Worldwide Fame.

George V. Rotan of this city, state champion at golf, will be one of the two Texas amateurs to compete in a match with the English professionals Vardon and Ray, at Dallas, October 17.

The other Texas amateur will be Charles L. Dexter Jr. of Dallas, champion of that city. The match will be a four-some of 36 holes, each of the English players taking one of the Texas players as his partner. The English players are the same who competed last week in the sensational match at Brookline for the international championship and were defeated by the twenty-year-old Outmet after a long-drawn contest. English adherents say that Outmet's victory was a case of irresponsible youth having steadier nerves than the older players, who realized the significance of the match.

In addition to the interest which will be aroused over the presence of the English professionals, there will be added zest to the play on account of the rivalry which has existed between Rotan and Dexter. In the invitation tournament at Dallas, held early in the summer, Dexter defeated Rotan, evening up for the victory which Rotan won over him in the state championship matches at Houston earlier in the year. When the Dallas man came to Waco in August, however, to play in the Huaco club tournament, Rotan was victor after a close match. Their showing in the late tournaments classed these two as the leaders among Texas golf players, in recognition of which the Dallas Country club has invited them to pair with the Englishmen in the coming exhibition.

On the Saturday after the exhibition there will be an eighteen-hole tournament in which all Texas players are invited to participate. A number of prizes have been offered. About twenty players are expected to attend from Waco.

BONHAM COTTON PRICES GOOD

Merchants Organize Cotton Company.
Place Buyer on Streets to Purchase From Farmers.

Bonham, Sept. 28.—The merchants of this city have organized a cotton company. They have placed a buyer on the streets to purchase the cotton of the farmer when he cannot get the market price from the local buyer. This company is composed of merchants who do not desire to buy cotton, but whose desire is to help the farmers get the top price. This buyer each morning gives the farmer the information which he most needs, the price per each grade, and if the buyer refuses to give it, then the buyer for the merchants takes the cotton and ment is furnishing to the Bonham pays for it. The United States government of Trade cotton samples showing the standard grades and will each day give the market on said grades.

MEMORY OF THE RIGHTEOUS

Rev. Ashley Chappell Says Men Are Remembered According to Their Obligations.

Rev. Ashley Chappell preached to a large congregation at the Fifth Street Methodist church yesterday morning, taking his text from the sixth verse of the 112th Psalm, "The Righteous Shall Be in Everlasting Remembrance."

"Only the memory of the good and true life after their bodies have been consigned to the tomb," he said. To be remembered after death one must be righteous during life. He insisted that every man has obligations. No man can evade them. The man who lives up to his obligations is remembered, while the memory of him who has shirked his obligation to God and man is lost.

In his observance or failure to observe his obligation to God or his neighbor each man determines whether

REAL ESTATE

Real Estate For Sale.

Real Estate For Sale.

Have you taken advantage of any of the bargains we have been offering in Real Estate? Property is moving and valuations are advancing rapidly; buy now and secure yourself a quick profit.

Here are a few of our listings. We have many others to offer you, so if you don't find what you want here come up to see us.

Almost new 5-room bungalow, located in a most desirable neighborhood near Baylor, for only $2000; small cash payment, balance like rent.

$5165 on which is a 2-story home situated close in on South 5th St., cheap at $2500.

A choice home of 5 rooms on Sanger avenue for $2850; worth more; will consider a good lot as first payment; balance may be paid at the rate of $20 per month.

Another bargain in a nice home on Sanger avenue is a well arranged 5-room cottage for $3500, with terms to suit purchaser.

A beautiful little home on Gorman St. for $2250, this includes all interest on deferred payments, which are easier than paying rents.

One of the best-built homes on Gorman street, between 12th and 20th, for $2500, this is an ideal home and one that it is a pleasure for us to show.

100x165 feet, east front, on Colorado Ave. and 1-room modern bungalow, the price, well, anyone familiar with real estate values, after seeing this, will appreciate it as a bargain at $1800.

Two of the most modern 6-room cottages that we have in the city, located on beautiful terraced lots, facing south, and the price is only $1800, with small cash payment and the deferred payments just like rent. This is an opportunity for the man of moderate means to own an up-to-date home.

Located on Lyle avenue, supplied with artesian water, gas, etc., we have a modern 6-room bungalow, which we can offer you for a few days only at an extremely low figure of $2850, $750 cash and the balance only $15 per month.

62x165 feet, east front, beautiful shade trees on North 5th St. and a well-arranged home of 7 rooms, large hall, etc. This is a bargain.

One of the best apartment house locations in the city, 75x165 feet corner, just one block of paved street and car line, and lots have on them two fine houses renting for $12 per month. The price of the property is $7500. If you are looking for an investment, see this.

One of the best homes on North 12th St., located between Austin and Jefferson, at a figure that will prove real interesting to anyone wishing a home on this popular street on University Heights.

One of the most modern brick homes in the city, beautifully located in the northwestern portion of the city, on a high terraced lot. If you are in the market for such a place we will take pleasure in showing this and making you a price you will find attractive.

Five choice lots on University Heights for $2000; small cash payment.

$600 for a high terraced lot just opposite Waco Vista, this will prove a good investment; if you want to make money, this is your opportunity.

Nice corner lot in Waco Vista for $1250, 100x165 feet on Colorado for $4250 and a choice corner lot on Gorman avenue for only $600.

One whole block on University Heights, $12,000. Will consider some trade on this.

We have a fine block on Austin street, on which we are selling an interesting figure for the next few days.

200 acres first-class black land in the western part of the country located near good towns and a place that we will trade for Waco city property.

Last your property with us. We are in a position to secure you a quick sale. Also see our listings before purchasing elsewhere.

UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS LOTS.
Now assured of both sanitary sewer and water supply, which adds greatly to the value of this property. We have decided to sell a number of our lots at old prices, on terms to suit purchasers. See us if interested.

MOORE & MOORE.
We have sold three houses on North 12th, more than is going quick. This is a case of stucco construction, is plastered inside, solid foundation; cool in summer and warm in winter. Has all the city conveniences and is offered for less than it could be built for—$3250, $1250 cash.

Five-room house, North Waco, nearly new, two lots, has gas, electric, water, front, good neighborhood. This is a bargain at $2500, terms arranged.

Five-room house, between Fifth and Sixth on Garland on corner, nice trees, eight car line. Of course, it is a bargain at $2500, terms.

Ruter street, corner facing south, one block of new 14,000 school about to be opened. Car line likely to extend any time by the property. Will sell for a small profit. Property in North Waco, Craven Realty Co., 704 Amicable.

Wanted—To Rent.
A good home without buying.
I advertised last week for large close-in home, suitable for rooming house and you failed to list your property with us, and the result was my client came according to promise to make inspection of my offerings and I failed to have anything that appealed to them.

Now, it's a shame to let out of town people go away with the money. They will come back when I have something good to show them. Take a few moments and tell us what you have to offer.

This is a business proposition worth going and that you do not get often.
